

You Are Done With Range-Worry When You Get A New

ulenwood

"Makes Cooking Easy"

Your Old Range taken in Exchange

REYNOLDS & SON, BARRE, VT.

"TAINTED MONEY" WON'T STOP HIM

Oil King to Adopt a Systematic Plan of Giving as a Result of the Controversy Over $100,000 Gift to Missions.

New York, May 11 .- What purports to be a conversation between John D. Rockefeller and a friend was published by the Evening World here yesterday, It is the first quoted utterance of the Standard Oil King since his $100,000 gift to the American Board of Missions repeated to a reporter by a friend of Mr. Rockefeller. It is as follows:

"I shall continue to give, in my own height, weighs 5000 pounds and is of way to any cause that appeals to me as highly ornamental design.

Mayor Burke expressed his thanks "Do you think that the sentiments expressed by Dr. Gladden are held by any large number of elergymen?"

"I should be loth to feel that such was leads me to entertain only the warmest

"This controversy over my gift of $100,000 for Congregational missionary purposes has set me thinking as to the best method of aiding church and philanthropic work. I am considering me thods that will enable me in the future to regulate my giving of money on a systematic basis and with more effective scope than heretofore.'

Gift From Williamstown Man.

Burlington, May 11.—Mayor Burke received yesterday through President J. E. Goodrich of the Humane Society, an offer of a public fountain for horses that caused the great controversy on dogs, etc., from Lewis M. Seaver, who spends his summers at Williamstown.

The World says the conversaton was The fountain is one of several which highly ornamental design.

Mayor Burke expressed his thanks to Mr. Seaver through Mr. Goodrich,

William McAuliffe has resigned "I should be loth to feel that such was position as street commissioner for the case. I have a great many good Northfield. He has held the office for friends in the Christian ministry, and my experience with clergymen generally fullest satisfaction in every way.

Hair Vigor. Better wear your own hair; not the kind you buy! But you are losing yours? Then be quick! Fasten tightly on your own head what is left, and get a new lot, too. J. C. Ayer Co..

Reo 5-Passenger Touring Car!

Two-cylinder horizontal 16 h. p., with long hill-climbing stroke. Weight 1500 lbs., with detatchable tourrean. Price $1250. Also can furnish Reo Runabout, 8 h. p., 850 lbs., at $650. Both equipped with two lamps and horn. The Reo is invented and built by R. E. Olds, the inventor of the Oldsmobile. Will be pleased to give demonstrations. E. N. ALDRICH, Agent, Graniteville, Vt.

Shakespeare Knew a Thing or Two

When he gave utterance to the following:

"There is a tide in the affairs of men Which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune." So "get in the swim" on

Our unexcelled line of lnk and Pencil Writing Tablets. Our popular line of National Duplicate Order Books, Our taking line of Composition and Students' Note Books, Our attractive line of Blank Books.

IDEAL BOOK AND STATIONERY STORE,

Hale's Block, Next Door to People's Shoe Store. W. FRANK HARRIS.

PAY CASH and GET the BEST

Home-cured Hams, per pound 14c Bermuda Onious, per pound 6c congratulated the bride, and another Two cans of best Tomatoes for 25c | Three pound package of Lotus Prunes for ... 25c | collection was finsisted on to enable Don't Forget to Ask For Your Rebate Checks.

CHESSER & BIRD.

323 North Main Street.

The train was standing in the depot, the engine had backed down and coupled on, and the conductor walked rapengineer to pull out.

(Original.)

Throwing Rice

What Came of

A boyish looking fellow and a girlish looking maiden sat in the same seat waving adieus to a party of young people outside. As the train started shower of rice came in at the open window, and shouts of merriment, mingled with adleus, died away in the distance. The young man looked sheepish; the girl blushed crimson. The train was an express, which was not scheduled to stop for two hours, and that a hundred miles from the starting point; consequently the conductor did not hurry to take up the tickets. The young couple said little to each other, and what was said came mostly from the young man, who was trying to pacify the girl about the rice throwing. Nothing more noticeable than this occurred till the young man was heard to exclaim:

"By Jiminy!" He was plunging his hands into his

"Whatever in the world is it?" said the girl.

"Pocketbook gone, with all the mony and the tickets." The voices in this part of the young couple's dialogue were not suppressed; indeed they could be heard by the whole car. "I believe it was Bill Slocum did it," said the swain. "He was monkeying around me in the depot. He must have done it for a joke." "H'm! Joke! He did it for spite.

He was jealous." "Jealous of whom?"

The girl made no reply to this. Indeed, the passengers sitting near needed no reply to judge of the situation. The couple began to talk over their loss in lower tones, and the more they talked the less they liked it. To be left on a train speeding far away without a cent to pay their fares was a very uninviting condition. The young man looked rueful, and the girl began to cry. Presently the door of the car opened and the conductor entered and began to take up tickets. As he approached the young couple the young Mr. Seaver will present to as many dif-ferent cities. It is of iron, six feet in though this time he was doing it to give the conductor some premonition of what was to come. The girl sobbed aloud. When the official stood in front of the couple and reached out for the tickets the young man told him his story and begged him to pass them through, but the heartless conductor said that they must get off at the first stop and went on punching tickets. All this was too much for a benevolent looking gentleman sitting near, who arose, took his hat in his hand and walked through the car taking up a collection. All the world loves a lover, and a bride and bridegroom placed is collected by the car taking up to expense for his trips to Paris and relation of these trips to business of the Equitable. placed in such a situation just starting on their wedding trip appealed to the sympathies of every one in the car. When the benevolent gentleman had visited all he went to the girl and poured a lot of bills and coin into her lap. She looked up at their benefactor with a happy smile that should have repaid him amply for what he had done. But he wanted something more.

"A kiss from the bride, please." The girl colored up to the roots of her hair, and the benevolent gentleman bent and, taking her pretty young face in his two bands, raised it and imprinted a kiss, whereupon there was a spontaneous burst of laughter, accompanied by a clapping of hands, from the other donors.

Any bride and groom under such circumstances would be embarassed, and the passengers did not think hard of this youthful couple that they did not respond to the friendly spirit by which they had been relieved from an unpleasant position. Their fare was paid, and there could be no reason for further worry, and yet there seemed something unsettled. The youth was whispering to the girl, apparently endeavoring to obtain her consent to something he had proposed. Several hours passed, during which the train kept up its monotonous clatter, and the young couple seemed still uneasy. At last the girl was observed to put her hand into that of the young man and say something softly. In a few minates he arose and, going to the gen- Fresh Supply Received Daily. tleman collector, said something to him which seemed to surprise him

"You don't mean it! Why didn't you say so?"

The young man said something more; the gentleman rose and asked: "Is there a clergyman present?"

There was no response. "This young gentleman and lady are very conscientious. They have accept ed help under the assumption that they are a bride and groom. They are not

There was a moment's silence, and then some one shouted:

"Then they'd better be right off." "That's the soint. The lady has consented to what she never dreamed of when she entered the car-a wedding." One of the passengers went from car to car for a clergyman and at last found one and brought him to the scene of the comedy.

others to contribute, this time to a wedding present. When the couple reached their destination a committee accompanied them to the bride's home in order to youch for their explanation and make sure that the wedding rejoicings were not spoiled by trate ALICE CHEEVER. Meats and Groceries. parents.

JAS. H. HYDE UNDER FIRE

tilly forward, making motions to the Searching Questions Asked by State Supt. Hendricks

AS TO EQUITABLE HISTORY

Alexander Up Tuesday-The Executive Officers Will Be Called in Their

vice president of the Equitable Life As- mjury to his back and one hip. surance society, was put through the was also badly bruised and suffers much ordeal of an oral cross-examination by Francis Hendricks, state superintendent of insurance, vesterday foreneon. Mr. He was plunging his hands into his pockets, one after another, and when he got through them all began over termyer, Mr. Hendricks, and his counsel, M. E. Driscoll of Syracuse, accompanied by a stenographer, went into the board room of the society shortly before 11 $3,263,755 Received Last Year for Ben President James W. Alexander was examined late Tuesday afternoon by Mr. Hendricks, but it was so secretly ione that the fact did not become pub ic until yesterday.

Mr. Hendricks is asking the executive officers of the Equitable under oath as to the charges that have been so freely made of alleged financial irregularities in the conduct of the society.

Among the questions to be asked Mr. Hyde, according to one published report, was the following: was the following:

By what right he charged up the cost of his banquet to Ambassador Cambon to the policy holders of the Equitable.

To give a complete statement of all of his profits made as the head of the "James II. Hyde and Associates" syndientes; the names of his associates and the profits each one received on each

By what right he caused C. F. Williamson, alleged superintendent of his Long Island estate, to be placed on the Equitable's pay roll at a salary of $7,200 a year; also whether any of his ersonal servants are on the pay roll of the Equitable.

To explain various vouchers aggregat. ing a large sum which he gave, it is alleged, for money he drew out of the treasury of the society, and which he ordered charged to "expense accounts." To tell about the leases of the various safe deposit companies he is interested in, and the low rentals they are charged or space in the buildings owned by the Equitable Life.

To give the name of every dummy director of the Equitable who "qualified for the office by having five shares of Hyde stock placed in escrow in his

To explain the duties he performs in eturn for the $100,000 he receives yearly as vice-president of the Equitable; also who authorized the $100,000 sal-Whether any of the expense, direct or indirect, of his fancy dress French ball given at Sherry's was charged to the Equitable.

INJUNCTION REFUSED.

Justice McLean Denies Tull Petition Against Proposed Mutualization.

New York, May 11.-Justice MacLean in the state supreme court yesterday, denied the application of Herbert G. Tull of Philadelphia, a policy holder in the Equitable Life Assurance society, for an injuction restraining that society and the New York state superintendent of insurance from proceeding further with respect to the proposed amended charter of the Equitable which was sent to the superintendent of insurance for his approval. The amended charter provides for the mutualization of the sc

Judge MacLean said he denied the application because the amended charter is now before the state superintendent, of insurance and the attorney general

PINEAPPLES.

BANANAS

At wholesale and retail. The best received in this city. All kinds of Fruits at the lowest prices.

NEW ENGLAND FRUIT CO.,

A. DIVERSI, Prop., COR. MAIN AND MERCHANT STS., BARRE, VI.

BANANAS

We sell Bananas at 10c, 15c, 20c and 25c per dozen.

ORANGES

At 25c, 30c, 35c, 45c and 50c per doz.

The Vermont Fruit and Confectionery Store,

Makes You Strong

INJURED IN RUNAWAY.

E. C. Nash of Burlington Thrown .to Ground and Run Over.

Burlington, May 11 .- E. C. Nash of Nash's bakery was severely injured yes- gregate is $3,263,755. terday in a runaway accident. Mr. Nash had stopped his delivery team in front of F. E. Perkins' store at the corner of Main and Winooski avenue and was about to turn the horse around to hack team from Agel's livery came dashing down the street and ran into Mr. Nash's rig. Mr. Nash was thrown violents, into the air and struck heavily on his bench the church of the church. She also left $200 to the pastor, the Rev. S. P. Brownell, to be used for foreign missions. go in another directon when a runaway on his back on the ground, the wagon turning completely over. The horse was

New York, May 11.—James H. Hyde, Mr. Nash was rendered unconscious for a short time and sustained severe the Wayside Inn.

> LARGE PRESBYTERIAN FUND. eficence.

Auburn, N. Y., May 11.—Rev. W. H. Hubbard, secretary of the special com-mittee on systematic beneficence of the Presbyterian church of the United States, has received the financial reports of the income of the eight boards of the church for the year ending May 1, 1905. The total income of the boards is the largest ever reported to the Gen-eral Assembly of the Church. The ag-

By the will of Miss Flora E. Warden of West Barnet the Presbyterian church receives a bequest of $1,000, to be held in trust by the elders of the church for

READY FOR USE Made in Sixty inviting shades Put up in Quart, Hall-Gallon, Gallon Cans; 5-Gallon Buckets; Hall-Barrels and Barrels

For Sale by C. W. Averill & Co.

QUAKER RANGES

$1.00 and your old range down and $1.00 a week buys a QUAKER HOME RANGE

C. W. AVERILL & CO.

81 North Main St., - - Barre, Vermont.

CADILLAC @ MODEL D

Four Cylinder Vertical Engine 30 H. P.

This is the latest addition to the line of famous Cadillac Cars, the Cars which give satisfaction. We shall be pleased to have you call and examine the new $950 Touring Cars which we have in stock.

The Car That

ALWAYS GOES CADILLA

HALE'S BLOCK, 155 NORTH MAIN STREET. Standard Electric Co., Barre, Vermont.